finest Scandinavian collection

Skogán® finest Scandinavian collection

A sharp breeze makes its way inside your coat. You pull your collar up high and take a deep breath. A pleasant pine scent tickles your nose. It takes you back to the wooden cabin by the lake last summer. You spent long evenings sitting outside as dusk fell, feeling the sand between your toes. You relive that simplicity and respect for nature as you reflect on those dearly beloved surroundings.

The Skogán collection takes you to Scandinavia, where peace and simplicity rule. Lighter hues and plain lines are suited to minimalist interiors and refined designs. The colours clearly reflect the unsaturated earth tones so characteristic of this region.

‘Losán is a professional producer, with a long tradition of making wood-based panels. We think it is important that Losán focuses on special products instead of just bulk products! In addition, they are flexible, reliable and professional. In short: a real partner in business.’

Sustainability

To Losán, caring about nature is a given. Because we not only love real wood veneer, but we love nature and we respect our environment.

We believe that the way we treat our surroundings and especially our materials, is crucial to the process of working with wood.

We use wood from sustainably managed forests. All of our production facilities are located near our resources. This helps us reduce our CO₂ emissions.

As we process a natural product, we are very aware of our need and responsibility to protect the environment.

Losán Inspiration LAB

To inspire you and allow us to share our latest products and innovations with you, we have created our Losán LAB consultancy.

We are your supplier of the finest veneered sheet materials with this Scandinavian ECO label. The M1 certification determines that the product meets the M1 criteria for emission class for building materials. We are the first producer of veneered panels who have achieved this certification and we are very proud of that.

We went to great lengths to achieve this certificate to ensure that you, as our customer, have the security of a product that is produced with the lowest emissions possible.

We love wood, but we also love to work with wood that is sustainable. In this way we can enjoy not only the product, but also the trees which provide these beautiful materials. That is why we have FSC certification. This certificate applies to forest product manufacturers and distributors. The goal is to check that products are handled correctly at every stage of production - from forest to panel. So that you, as our customer, can be sure that you are buying a sustainable product.

PEFC is a certification scheme, which guarantees by annual audits that the wood components used in our production originate from legally and sustainably managed sources.

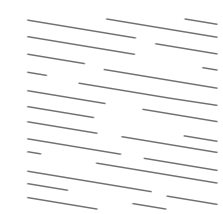

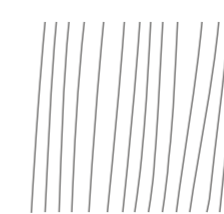

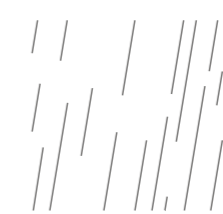

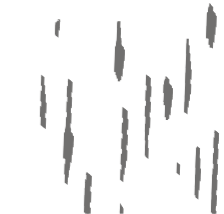

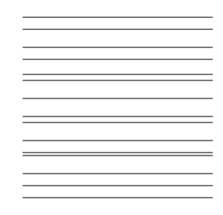

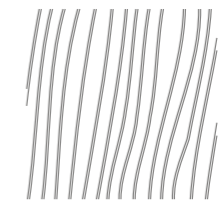

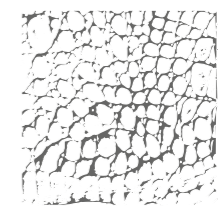

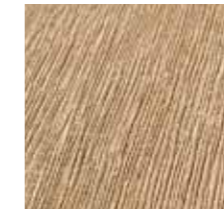

‘As we process a natural product, we are very aware of our need and responsibility to protect the environment.’

LosánNL is FSC®, PEFC® and M1®-certified.
